About the Department of Mathematics & Statistics

Department of Mathematics & Statistics was started in the year 1993 with combination of all mathematical science groups. The department offers a wide range of advanced undergraduate courses which provide an introduction to many areas of Mathematics including geometry, probability, numerical analysis, algebra, logic and differential equations. The faculty of this department are highly committed and qualified to provide technical education of utmost standards. The department provides a strong foundation for students, who wish to explore career options in Mathematics & Statistics.
